

PLAN 8
*(Obsolescent)

Plan 8 consists of two main telephones and one internal extension in parallel. Incoming calls are received normally at the main telephones.

The mains can call the extension on bells of distinctive tones by press buttons.

Press buttons enable the user at the extension to connect his telephone to either exchange line.

All telephones call the exchange direct.

Intercommunication between main and extension telephones is not provided.

Secrecy between main and extension telephones is not provided but conversations on either main cannot be heard by the other main.

Plan 8 has all 300-type telephone.

* This Plan arrangement is now obsolescent and is superseded for new work by Plan 108.
